Letter from the Library Director

Palmdale City Library is a small library that does big things.

The past fiscal year has seen a full return to post-pandemic services, an updated strategic plan and several new initiatives. Popular services and activities included one-on-one meetings between community members, patron technology/Wi-Fi use for work, school and entertainment, wireless printing, program and event attendance and of course, the collection of materials available both in the Library and through the Inland Library Network.

In addition to the return of in-person programs and events during the past year, the Library also offered pop-up programs through the Palmdale community. We are excited to reconnect with friends and neighbors as we resume our regular calendar of activities.

We are grateful for Palmdale's support this and every year. It has been a proactive and productive year for Palmdale City Library, with even more to come!

Robert Shupe | Library Director

Launching a New Strategic Plan

After significant public engagement including multiple focus group meetings with stakeholders and a community-wide survey, an ambitious and exciting strategic plan was formally presented and accepted by the Library Board of Trustees in September 2021. This document guides planning for all Library services, with regular progress reports provided to the Library Board of Trustees each month.

Education

Palmdale City Library (PCL) meets the educational needs of the community.

Strong Community

PCL brings the community together through intentional inclusiveness in services and programming.

Reading

PCL celebrates reading, focusing on literacy for all ages.

Events & Activities

Summer Reading Program

Patrons were thrilled to return for the Summer Reading Program. Following the theme "Read Beyond the Beaten Path," a family kick-off event was held in Poncitlán Square Park on June 4th and drew 40 attendees. Summer highlights included Storytime in the Park on June 23rd with 25 attendees and 350 participants attending a Harry Potter Birthday Party to mark the end of Summer Reading on July 29th.

Summer Lunch Program

The Library continued its partnership with Palmdale School District and their Summer Lunch Program for the fifth consecutive year. This summer, children enjoyed nutritious lunches in six different City parks, and the Library provided 12 pop-up library programs. With the help of a $12,800 grant from the State Library, PCL distributed free books from Scholastic to participants.

Storytime

In addition to being one of the first libraries in Los Angeles County to reopen and restore full hours following pandemic lockdowns, Palmdale was also one of the first to reintroduce in-person Storytime sessions in September, 2021. The sessions have continued with strong attendance, and families are thrilled to be back! A total of 79 Storytime sessions saw 1,315 attendees during the year.

Storytime to Go Kits

The Library now offers Storytime to Go Kits. Borrowed 80 times during the past year, each kit is based on a different theme and includes books, songs, coloring sheets and simple craft supplies for families.

Themes for the kits include:

- Beach & Ocean
- Cats
- Dinosaurs
- Farm
- Mindfulness
- Monsters
- Enchantment/Encantamiento (bilingual)

Black History Month and Author Series

During February, the Library partnered with the City of Palmdale and the Black Chamber of Commerce of the Antelope Valley to feature two local African-American authors. Well received with over 20 attendees at each event, the author series inspired subsequent author presentations.

Local History Room Collection Assessment

With special funding provided by the City of Palmdale, a professional preservation consultant conducted an assessment of the Library's Local History Room collection and its environment. The consultant made recommendations regarding the future management, housing and potential expansion of this collection. A site visit was conducted in May 2022, and the final report was received at the end of June. Plans for implementation of recommendations contained in the report have begun.

The Library and Legacy Commons (the City's Senior Center) were thrilled to bring Inkwell back in person in May. This year,
the Library introduced an Authors Reception on the eve of the Festival,
attended by over 50 people.
The Festival reached prepandemic participation with over 500 attendees.

Feature Films in the Library

During the past year, 209 attendees enjoyed 22 movies. Screenings included a Holiday Film Festival in December, Black History Month features in February and Friday afternoon movies during the summer.

State Park Passes for Check-Out

In collaboration with the State Library of California and the State Parks Division, the Library now offers free day-use passes to State Parks.
